STEPS to Politeness

How many STEPS will you take today?

Politeness makes a difference

National Poetry Day

Words Can Take You Anywhere

A poem can whisper,
A poem can shout,
It can turn all your thinking
Completely about.
It can carry you over
The mountains and sea,
To places you've dreamed of
And longed to be.
It can make you feel happy,
Or thoughtful, or brave,
It can capture a moment
You'll always want to save.
So play with your language,
Let imagination fly—
There's no end to the places
Your words can take you by.!

Autumn Fires

Robert Louis Stevenson

In the other gardens
And all up the vale,
From the autumn bonfires
See the smoke trail!
Pleasant summer over
And all the summer flowers,
The red fire blazes,
The grey smoke towers.
Sing a song of seasons!
Something bright in all!
Flowers in the summer,
Fires in the fall!

Why not write your own poem to celebrate national poetry day? Hand your entry to the office by Friday9th October.

Black History Month: Mary Seacole

What did Mary Seacole do?

A portrait of Mary Seacole.

- Mary Seacole was British-Jamaican, born in 1805.
- Her mother was a free Jamaican, her father a soldier in the British Army.
- Mary grew up in her mother's hotel in Jamaica.
- Mary had a lot of experience caring for sick British soldiers because so many of them were based in the West Indies.

- One of the worst diseases in the Caribbean was cholera, which killed thousands of people.
- She used her medical knowledge and looked after the wounded from the battlefield.
